MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

Food and Garden Waste Collection Service

Over the last 3 weeks a combined total of over 70,000 thousand green wheelie bins, 23L green bins and sliver caddies have been delivered ready for the second phase of the food and garden waste scheme to start week beginning September 7th.

With a further 40,000 homes joining the new free collection service, everyone can do their bit to help recycle their food and garden waste.
We have already recycled over 2400 tonnes of food and garden waste in the last two months alone, so a big thank you to everyone for taking part.
For those joining the new scheme, you will be helping to slow the rising cost of sending waste to landfill as well as improving the environment for everyone.

How to get the best from your new service.

1. The small silver caddy is for your convenience in the kitchen. Line it with newspaper, kitchen paper or a paper liner. This helps to minimise odours and makes it easier to keep clean.

2. Put your food waste into the caddy and empty it into the larger bin when full. Alternativley wrap large items in paper and place directly into your green bin.

3. Add garden waste to your bin with your food waste. This will help to reduce smells and waste remaining in the bin after collection. You can add anything that can be composted.

4. Place your green bin out with all your recycling on your regular collection day by 7am. Please do not put out your silver caddy as this will not be emptied.

More in your pink sack from September

Since 1990 with the introduction of the first borough-wide kerbside recycling scheme in the UK; Milton Keynes has worked hard to make recycling as easy and accessable to as many people as possible.

Thanks to investment in new equipment by our partners at Community Waste, and improved ways of working, we are happy to announce that we are able to take an increased range of products in the pink recycling bags.

What extra can I put in my pink sack?

Clean Plastic Food Containers

(including fresh foods and readymeals)

Please rinse out all of your recycling, especially those items that contain meat, fish or dairy products. By doing this you reduce odours and the chances of attracting pests to your pink sacks.

Sportacus hits gym

A THEATRE star was far from lazy yesterday when he took time out of rehearsals to hit the gym.

Sportacus, who is performing in LazyTown Live! The Pirate Adventure at Milton Keynes Theatre this week, continued with his fitness regime when he visited the Theatre District's Ènergie Fitness club.

General manager at the club, Gary Corby, said: "We were delighted he chose to come to Ènergie in his spare time and he's welcome back any time he's not busy saving the world."

No cash for code crackers

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

AN appeal for the Prime Minister to save Bletchley Park has been rejected.

Nearly 22,000 people signed an online petition for the Government to plough more money into the home of the codebreakers, which currently receives no external funding.

As MK NEWS revealed last year, some of the buildings are in danger of becoming derelict.

The Park is asking for £250,000 a year to meet running costs, after visitor numbers have doubled in the last three years.

But on Wednesday, a response to the petition on the Number 10 website said that there are no plans to extend funding.

The petition read: 'Please do not allow this crucial piece of both British and world culture to disappear. If ever an example were needed of Britain leading the world, this surely would be it.'

Since the revelation about Bletchley Park's financial problems, Milton Keynes Council has pledged £600,000 for critical restoration work, and English Heritage awarded £330,000 for roof repairs.

However, the response read: 'The Government agrees that the buildings on the Bletchley Park site are of significant historic importance and, although recognising the excellent work being carried out there, at present it has no plans, nor the resources, to extend its sponsorship of museums and galleries beyond the present number.'

Bletchley Park called it a 'disappointing' response and actor Stephen Fry even wrote on his online Twitter page: "If we can't save the place that arguably did the most to win us the war, what hope is there for us as a nation?"

Simon Greenish, director of the Bletchley Park Trust, said, "The support we are requesting from the government is modest.

"The investment from English Heritage and Milton Keynes Council has provided great help with the substantial infrastructure works needed. A major application has been placed with the Heritage Lottery Fund which, if successful, will provide funding for the development of the museum over the next three to five years after which, as our business plan has established, Bletchley Park will be self-supporting."

He added: "The public have consistently and overwhelmingly provided us with the powerful conviction that they are fully behind our mission to transform Bletchley Park into the world-class educational and heritage site it deserves to be, reflecting the profound significance of its impact on the twentieth century and the way we all live today. It is disappointing that the government feels unable to demonstrate its agreement with this."

City MP Mark Lancaster said: "I am determined to do all I can in Westminster to try and secure funding for Bletchley Park to ensure that it continues to be a national treasure celebrating the invaluable work of so many people during world war two that we can all be rightly proud of."

Pedestrian signs to go up in CMK

£90,000 to help people get around on foot

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

Signs for the times: Cllr Alan Mallyon, John Lewis and Brian Sandon

PEDESTRIANS will finally be able to find their way around Central Milton Keynes.

This week, 12 signs will be erected from Station Square along Midsummer Boulevard to the Theatre District.

The £45,000 project follows MK NEWS' revelation in October 2008 that 51 per cent of visitors found it difficult to know where they are in Milton Keynes.

Leading figures from the shopping centre, theatre, gallery, Hub and tourist board said the lack of signs were depriving them of trade.

City centre manager Kay Greenhalgh, who spoke out about businesses' frustration last year, said: "We're delighted to see the first of the new signs in place. Due to the nature of the city centre it can be confusing for people to find their way around and these signs are also a great way to promote all that the Central Milton Keynes has to offer."

A further £45,000 is to be spent on signs at Sainsbury's, Lloyds Court, the central library and the law courts, which will be in place before Christmas.

Cllr Alan Mallyon, cabinet member responsible for transport, said: "There has been some concern about the lack of quality pedestrian signing within Central Milton Keynes.

"The council has worked with CMK Partners to turn the 2007 walking map into way finding signs. We hope these signs along with other improvements planned for Central Milton Keynes will make it an easy and enjoyable place to move around."

New bus service rerouted to avoid primary school

A CONTROVERSIAL new bus service is to be rerouted away from a school after protests from parents.

The Number 2 service between Central Milton Keynes and Westcroft will no longer pass in front of Oxley Park Primary School during the morning and afternoon school run.

It is the second recent victory for Oxley Park residents as the council threw out plans to build eight new homes on green space in the estate on August 20.

Nick Lewis, who warned that a child could be killed by buses travelling down the narrow road outside the school said: "We wanted the bus to be re-routed to reduce the danger and I think this will achieve that. We are hoping the bus drivers will eventually realise the benefit and the company will change it full time."

A spokesman for the council said from next Tuesday buses will use the H6/Whitney Roundabout instead of Redgrave Drive near the school for 40mins in the morning (8.14am to 8.54am) and 52 minutes in the afternoon (2.42pm to 3.34pm) on school days only.

MK Council's cabinet member for transport, Alan Mallyon, said this interim measure has been agreed due to safety concerns raised by the headmistress of the school.

Discussions on a permanent new route continue with the bus company and housing developers but Cllr Mallyon once again warned that the service is tied into funding agreements that may be hard to overcome.

Paul Balladon, from Harlow Crescent, is still campaigning for the service not to pass through the residential areas.

He said: "Our problem with the agreement is that it did not take into account the quality of life for residents when introducing this service; including the noise, pollution, congestion and safety."

Random kindness gang out in Stony

THE craze of spreading happiness through random acts of kindness has hit the streets of Milton Keynes.

A group of youngsters led by anti-bullying campaigner Alex Holmes were out on the High Street in Stony Stratford on Friday cheering up passers-by.

The gang, aged between seven and 21, hoped to dispel the 'hoodie' stereotype of young people by giving out flowers, cakes and sweets and offering free hugs and smiles.

Mr Holmes said: "One elderly lady cried because she said it was so nice to receive kindness from us, it moved her that much.

"Many commented on how much of a nice surprise it was and that it did make their day.

"I think it showed that it was 'cool to be kind' and bridged the gap between the older generation and the younger."

The group plan to hold more Random Acts of Kindness days across the city.

If you want to take part or any businesses that want to support the event can email kindness@hotmail.co.uk.

Axed school goes on spending spree

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A SCHOOL which seemingly went on a spending spree before it closed down is to be discussed by councillors tonight.

The council's audit committee will scrutinise the 'extraordinary purchases' made by Sir Frank Markham Secondary School, whose pupils are set to start at the new Milton Keynes Academy this month.

A report by the committee said the Woughton school's closure was 'inadequately controlled with risk of loss, fraud, impropriety or damage to reputation'.

In the year before it closed, the school bought a £378 mirror for the common room, ten CD recorders for £2,700 and laptops and computer equipment totalling thousands of pounds.

When it closed in July, laptops were offered to staff for whatever price they were willing to pay, for which there are no records.

In addition, £11,845 was spent on counselling sessions, £144 spent on snowboarding lessons and £1,741 went to Arsenal Football Club.

£11,845 on counselling

£2,700 on CD recorders

£1,741 to Arsenal FC

– plus thousands on laptops which were offered to staff for what they were willing to pay

Takeaways, pizza delivery and wine for extra classes and end of term celebrations totalled £2,850.

Had this been a school which wasn't closing, the report says, these purchases would have been investigated.

An initial report by Milton Keynes Council's audit committee rated the closure process as 'weak' and fraught with 'unforeseen expenditure'.

The matter was then passed to the internal auditors, who raised questions over the expenditure.

They are considering whether to investigate the sale of £22,750 worth of whiteboards, printers and projectors to a school in Nuneaton.

No-one was managing the closure at the 'crucial' period during its closure, as the two key officers had left and not been replaced.

Conservative leader Andrew Geary said: "Questions need answering. It would be wrong to form a judgement before officers can have their say. But the initial question is, is this yet another example of a Lib Dem cock-up?"

Labour Cllr Brian White, chairman of the audit committee, said: "The school build programme showed the council is incapable of building schools. This shows they are incapable of closing schools."

Council leader Sam Crooks said: "I want to remind people that at one point the academy was nearly a fortnight behind schedule. Now we're opening it on time and is oversubscribed."

A council spokesman said: "Obviously, there are lessons to be learned in the checks and balances that we use, and how closely the council needs to be involved, alongside the governing body, when a school is approaching its 'end of life'."

City's old folk let down by council – again

SIR – It is very disappointing to read that our Lib Dem-controlled council is again failing the city's older people (MK NEWS 26 August).

Apparently those who get weekly visits from council wardens will have to make do with a phone call instead.

This is, we are told by a council spokesman is 'because of staff shortages due to holidays and some staff being off sick'.

More accurately it is a result of a lack of planning – it's August so one must expect that staff will want to go on holiday.

Swine flu is about so some staff will be off sick.

These events could have been anticipated and older people could be receiving the service they deserve.

This latest example of our council failing to meet the needs of our most vulnerable citizens follows on from many previous examples including the late delivery of bus passes to older people last year and the scandal of the hundreds of older people who are waiting for showers, stairlifts and wheelchair ramps exposed last month.

A disturbing trend is developing. What is the MK council's Older People's Champion in the cabinet doing about this?

New Lib Dem Leader – same old failing council.

SIR – Regarding 'Appeal over wind test mast refusal' (MK NEWS August 26).

Maybe if people like Derek didn't fly helicopters so often we wouldn't be in the massive climate mess we're in now.

Health check fears

SIR – Regarding 'MP calls for local benefits health centre' (MK NEWS August 26).

I have mental health issues and have trouble leaving the house, let alone the idea of travelling out of MK.

I think it would cut down a lot of stress for claimants to be able to be assessed locally.

I am not kidding as I have been told I will need one of these assesments for the change in benefits soon, I sighed with relief, because I knew I could not go too far without panic.

I have been being physically sick with worry at the idea of going too far as anyone else with my sort of condition would understand.

Health study surprise

SIR – Interesting study this ('Violent crime and smoking deaths in city significantly worse than national average' MK NEWS August 26).

I am suprised it has higher averages for some of the things mentioned as most people seem to enjoy a good quality of life.

Phyllis fan

SIR – I had to respond to the letter from Lynne Carter regarding Mark Lancaster MP.

She fails to mention the hard work of MP Phyllis Starkey, who does so much to help her constituents and works tirelessly.

It appears Mr Lancaster's publicity machine is in overdrive and there seems to be a very concerted effort by his team to get him optimum publicity in time for the election next year.

As for his trips and holidays, Mr Lancaster was in Afghanistan this year, but only for a week and as a fact finding trip – not on the front ine in active service.

He has also been on several working trips abroad already this year including Washington and Africa. When he went on a trip to Beijing, he also added on a personal holiday to Hong Kong.

Next week he is taking a two-week luxury holiday to America (as he's mentioned in the press).

Instead of taking endless photo opportunities, I think Mr Lancaster should spend his long simmer break from the Commons fighting for issues his constituents feel strongly about such as the railways, post office closures, hospitals and local crime.

Robert Thompson
Monkston

Phyllis fails

SIR – The Government has announced plans for a wonderful new high speed rail line that will allow someone to get from London to Birmingham in 45 minutes.

Good news for the residents of Birmingham – however, it'll soon be quicker to get from London to Birmingham than Milton Keynes.

It's been nearly five years since the Department for Transport banned MK commuters from peak time high speed services to and from London.

And let's get this completely straight: high speed Virgin Trains stop at MK but MK commuters are not allowed to use them.

Dr Phylis Starkey MP has been trumpeting improvements in rail services for years, but she's delivered nothing.

She's had five years to visit the DfT and fix the problem, but she's failed.

MK was built for expansion and once had fantastic rail links to London.

Yet in 2009, we're losing our competitive edge with Labour's laughable transport policies.

Perhaps Dr Starkey could write to your paper and explain how this policy makes sense?

John Baker,
Woughton

Wardens replaced by a phone call is an insult

SIR – I write referring to your story last week about weekly warden visits being replaced with phone calls.

I am disgusted that the council can behave like this. Hundreds of elderly and disabled people have signed up for the warden visits - so they clearly want them.

To have these visits replaced by a phone call is such an insult.

I would be horrified if, having paid taxes all my life, I was sitting at home, waiting for my warden to pop in, and they phoned me up instead.

From what I can gather, these wardens also check the phone and buzzer system is working OK. What good is a phone call then if the person's phone line is down?

It's typical of today's society, where everything is becoming more and more remote.

For example, if one feels ill nowadays, one is sooner told to speak to a nurse at NHS Direct rather than actually go and see one.

You don't get to speak to your bank manager about your accounts - you call some call centre that is certainly nowhere near your local branch.

We are always told to 'go online now', and you can even go to Milton Keynes Council's website and ask two virtual characters your questions.

So I say to you, Milton Keynes Council: this is a slippery slope. You think this is temporary, but it could be 'rolled out', as you say, to other areas.

I wouldn't be surprised if, one day, it's an automated warden at the end of the phone line.

Betty Owen

Pensioner Anita Rose who exposed the phone call scheme in last week's MK NEWS

City orchestra in dire straits

'USE us or lose us'– that is the message from Milton Keynes City Orchestra, which faces an uncertain future due to a massive financial shortfall.

Though it has seen recessions in its 35-year history, the orchestra is struggling to make ends meet.

Having announced a programme of five concerts for 2009/10, general manager Anna Denny is still working out how they will pay for them.

She said: "I'm worried about the orchestra continuing to be a viable business entity. We need help. It is a case of use us or lose us."

Each concert costs around £28,000 to put on, but the crucial income from their recession-hit corporate sponsors has dropped.

Despite an Arts Council grant of £55,000 awarded in July, they are still unable to sustain the service. In reserves they used to have a year's turnover, which is around £250,000. At the moment they have just £10,000.

Milton Keynes is ranked alongside London, Manchester, Birmingham and Bournemouth in having its own professional city orchestra, staging everything from classical favourites to world premieres.

The new season opens with world famous violinist Tasmin Little. The orchestra also boasts renowned conductor Sian Edwards.

Also under threat are the many educational outreach programmes, which take classical music out to the communities.

Ms Denny added: "It's tough, very tough. We have great ideas for the 2010/11 season - we've got some really exciting opportunities. "However, the stark reality is we have to be able to resource it financially. My focus at the moment s seeing our way through the 2009/10 season. It's very hard to look beyond that."

Tesco pays worker after 18 operations

Compensation for warehouse man left disabled after work lifting injury

BY LAURA HANNAM

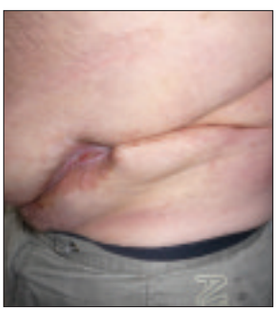
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A WAREHOUSE worker who has endured 18 operations after suffering a lifting injury has received compensation from Tesco.

Wayne Wellard, 40, of Chesnut Crescent, Bletchley, is now registered disabled, unable to work and still has an open wound almost four years after suffering a serious hernia at the Tesco Distribution Centre at Fenny Lock, Milton Keynes.

Mr Wellard, who has two sons aged 10 and 12, had worked at the distribution centre for three months when he was asked to retrieve a box from a pallet that was incorrectly raised from the ground and therefore too high.

He felt an instant pain in his groin and, although he consulted the first aiders, was advised to continue working as best he could.



Wayne Wellard's chronically infected wound – the result of 18 operations after he suffered a hernia working for Tesco

After being unable to complete his next shift due to the pain he was experiencing he visited his GP and hospital where a hernia was diagnosed and he underwent surgery.

He then developed a severe infection in the wound resulting in numerous further operations.

Mr Wellard said: "This has devastated my life. I can't work, I can't play with my children, I struggle to even help my wife around the house. I've almost lost my house twice and had to rely on family and friends financially, which is horrendous.

"I've still got a long way to go to regain my health; I've had ongoing infections and am now waiting for a referral to Stoke Mandeville Hospital to try to get it sorted.

"I'm so angry with Tesco. The compensation will help but it won't last forever."

Mr Wellard did not want to reveal how much he recieved, but a settlement was made just before the case got to court.

Virginia Kerridge, solicitor at law firm Russell Jones & Walker who represented Mr Wellard, said: "Tesco didn't appear to investigate Mr Wellard's injury properly at the time but it is imperative that employers take responsibility for the health and safety of their workforce.

"Mr Wellard lost his job and his life has changed beyond recognition. It's a tragic story.

"One of the medical experts in the case commented that Mr Wellard's wound was one of the most unpleasant chronically infected wounds he had seen. He is missing out on a normal active life with his family."

MK schools show 'rapid improvement' in GCSE results

'Staff, parents and kids have worked really hard': A pleased John O'Donnell, headmaster at Radcliffe School

Could do better – did do better!

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A 'FAILING school' has excelled in this year's GCSE results.

The Radcliffe Secondary School in Wolverton was placed in special measures by the Government 19 months ago, meaning it was not supplying an acceptable level of education.

However this week its students achieved its best ever grades.

In five years, the number of children achieving five A*-C grades has risen from 29 per cent to 75 per cent.

In just one year, this has risen by nearly a quarter from 51 per cent.

More than 40 per cent of the pupils found out on Thursday that they got at least five A*-C, including English and maths.

Last year that figure was just 23 per cent, placing the school in the Government's 'national challenge' category alongside Leon and Sir Frank Markham.

John O'Donnell, headmaster at the school for four years, believes these latest results will lift them out of that category and shed the 'failing' tag.

One student, Ruben Doyle, was awarded 11.5 A*s – the best results in the school's history.

Mr O'Donnell said: "We're a 'failing school' and yet look what we've achieved.

"We've exceeded our targets beyond our wildest dreams.

"Staff, parents and kids have worked really hard. There's no rocket science to it. We're just so proud and so pleased."

Schools in Milton Keynes are continuing to show 'rapid improvement' as thousands of students are celebrating passing their GCSE exams.

The number of students achieving at least five GCSE or equivalent at A* to C has rapidly improved at nearly 70 per cent up from just over 52 per cent in 2007.

Students achieving five GCSEs at grades A* to C, including Maths and English, rose from 39.6 per cent in 2007 to 48 per cent this year.

Gail Tolley, director of children and young people's services, said: "This rapid improvement is testament to the hard work by staff, students, parents and carers at schools in Milton Keynes.

"We now look forward to strengthening the partnership between the local authority and schools to improve further results in the coming years."

Results at each school include:

■ Denbigh – a total of 60 per cent (120) students passed 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at grades A* to C, including English and Maths. Overall, nearly a third of students achieved 10 or more A* grades (including one pupil who achieved the equivalent of 16 A* grades, with two others reaching the equivalent of 15 A* grades, including one pass at the equivalent of an AS level)

■ Hazeley – the number of students who passed 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at grades A* to C, including English and Maths was 66 per cent (96 students).

■ Leon School – 22 per cent achieved five or more GCSE or equivalent at grades A* to C including English and Maths, up from 15 per cent last year.

■ Lord Grey – the number of students passing 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at grades A* to C, including English and Maths, was 28 per cent.

■ Oakgrove – a total of 60 per cent of students passed 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at grades A* to C, including English and Maths. One student whose first language is not English achieved 10 A*s and a further A grade.

■ Ousedale School had further success, with 61 per cent achieving 5 or more GCSE or equivalent at grades A* to C including English and Maths, up from 56 per cent last year.

■ Shenley Brook End – 64.3 per cent achieved 5 or more GCSE or equivalent at Grades A* to C including English and Maths, up from 61 per cent. A total of 39 students gained 5 or more A* or A grades (16 gained 10 or more and two students gained more than 10 A* grades)

■ Sir Frank Markham School – the number of students passing 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at Grades A* to C, including English and Maths, was 19 per cent.

■ St Paul's - 58.1 per cent students achieved 5 or more GCSE or equivalents at Grades A* to C, including English & Maths.

■ Stantonbury Campus the number of students gaining 5 or more GCSEs or equivalent at Grades A* to C including English and Maths rose from 35 per cent to 38.4 per cent. In Drama 85 per cent of the students gained grades A* to C.

■ Walton High – A total of 65 per cent achieved 5 or more GCSE or equivalent at grades A* to C including English and Maths compared to 48. A total of 38 students achieved seven or more A* or A grades. Five of these students performed exceptionally well, with one achieving the equivalent of 14 A* or A grades, and four others achieving 13 A* or A grades. Results were strong in Maths, English and the sciences.

Cllr Sandra Clark, cabinet member responsible for children and schools, said: "Now, more than ever in these challenging economic times, a good education and solid exam results are an essential foundation to help give young people more control over their future and find the kind of jobs that they want.

"There have been some very good results across the board but as ever, we have room for improvement and need to strive further."

Jane Before

After

Well, where do I begin? For as long as I can remember I have had a weight problem. I have tried every diet and eating plan under the sun. At my heaviest I was over 23stone!!

I have always been an active person and love singing, dancing and performing with local societies and found that my weight was hindering me, I was beginning to not be able to get off the couch without getting pains in my knees and puffing and panting!

Also as a mother of two teenagers I was wondering what sort of message I was giving them. I knew that it was time to take action and had been recommended to SureSlim by a friend.

Making that phone call to SureSlim was my first step towards getting my life back.

I met with Alyson my consultant and had a free no obligation information session and that convinced me that SureSlim was the right choice. Within a couple of weeks I received my personal eating plan.

Once I started my cravings disappeared,previously I was a terrible binger and would consume large tubs of ice-cream and family size packs of chocolates etc. But suddenly that all stopped as though someone had found the switch and turned it off. It did not take long for me to enjoy the benefits as the weight melted away. I am now 7stone lighter!!.

I have energy, confidence and feel fantastic!!! I have started taking tap dancing classes something I would not have dreamt of doing before and certainly would physically not have been able to do. SureSlim has given me my life back.

I lost weight with SureSlim by eating normal food

Free Digital Scales Worth £27.50 With Every Enrolement in September 09

I've been comfort eating since about the age of 11. Over the years my weight increased on a massive scale. I had seen adverts for SureSlim but never did anything about it.

Then I was shopping one day and saw the SureSlim Clinic so decided to go in. At the time I was sceptical as I have tried other diets before and I just didn't think I would be able to do it. The diet was so easy to follow and it was fantastic to be able to eat real food not shakes or powdered meals.

I enjoyed experimenting with my food and actually cooking proper meals again. I was staggered that the weight just seemed to drop off, the eating programme is remarkable and really works. I began to feel full of energy and so positive about myself.

I have now reached my goal weight having lost nearly 6 stone. I have never felt as good about myself as I do now, it is very hard to describe how fantastic I feel. Walking past a shop window recently was a real revelation as I couldn't believe it, I didn't think it was me, I looked slim!

I would recommend this plan to anyone. I really feel that this time my weight will stay off forever, my whole attitude to food has changed. I am so positive about the future and now I am maintaining I know my happiness will continue as will my positive relationship with food.

I can't believe it, I look so slim! Kate

‘Timewarp’ couple to appear in TV series

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A FAMILY that lives in a wartime timewarp is set to appear on television.

Craig and Amanda Pickard, who in their 1940s guises are known as Harry and Edna, will appear in new BBC series ‘The week we went to war’.

The historical re-enactors do not just dress the part, but live the era, filling their Old Stratford home with period pieces.

Presented by current forces sweetheart Katherine Jenkins, the show marks the 70th anniversary of the outbreak of the Second World War.

Harry and Edna were visited by former Sunday Sport editor Tony Livesey who wanted to find out more about wartime glam.

Edna, house manger at the Cowper and Newton Museum in Olney, was made to change eight times while IT worker Harry wore a sharp period suit.

However, Harry claims they do not adopt this style every day.

He said: “We both love vintage fashion and will dress in a classic retro way when we go out to special events, but I would not cut the grass wearing a rare CC41 suit.”

He added: “It is not every day the ex-Sunday Sport editor pops round for tea, but he was a jolly polite chap and hopefully after his visit he is now dressing with a bit more style.”

Edna said: “It was great to have an excuse to wear my lovely outfits I have collected over the years, and even more pleasing to find out I can still get in them all.”

The week we went to war will be broadcast on BBC1 at 9.15 on Monday, September 7.

Pavilion plans are just not cricket

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

RESIDENTS say plans for a sports pavilion on playing fields are just not cricket.

Home owners in Westcroft are are upset at Milton Keynes Council's plan to build a pavilion on green space off Cranbourne Avenue, claiming it has gone back on its promise of a cricket pitch.

The pavilion would have four changing rooms with showers, officials changing rooms, a social area or meeting space for community use with kitchen, toilets and storage.

It would currently serve four junior football pitches on the site.

Nick Lewis, whose house in Wroxton Court overlooks the open space, said: "When people bought their houses they were promised that they would overlook a cricket pitch.

"We were shown images of an idyllic village scenario.

"Then earlier this year they started putting white lines down and when we asked what was going on they said they were putting junior football pitches on the field.

"Now they are planning to build a monstrosity of a pavilion when they say they don't have enough money for a cricket pitch."

Promised a cricket pitch: Wroxton Court residents Nick Lewis and Lea Howard Johnson

A council spokesman said it is still looking into providing a cricket pitch, despite the fact demand for such a facility is not high in the city. He said: "If there is funding remaining in the budget after the build we will look at providing this. If not alternative funding will need to be sought."

An external patio or viewing area has also been included in the pavilion plans for cricket usage.

The application is due to be discussed at a future meeting of the council's development control committee.

If permission is granted work is due to start in November 2009 with completion expected at in February 2010.

Fast food jobs at MK Dons' stadium

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

A NEW sports store and two fast food restaurants are set to open next to the MK Dons stadium by Christmas.

DW Sports Fitness, McDonald's and KFC have all confirmed they will take up residency on the stadiummk site.

The new DW Sports Fitness branch, to the right of the west stand, will be ready and open in November.

The unit, formerly held by JJB Sports, was put on hold at the end of 2008, however since David Whelan bought all JJB Fitness Clubs and adjoining Sports Stores the new opening is steadily progressing.

DW Sports fitness will include a large swimming pool, state of the art gym area and over 50 free group exercise classes a week. There is also a sports store with sporting goods and apparel from all brands on sale.

The 24/7 McDonald's, with a 'designer look', is set to open this winter, although no exact date was given when the franchise was contacted by MK NEWS.

The new-look McDonald's will have apple green, white and natural fibre huee decor.

New look decor at McDonald's – set to open later this year

The company expects to create 100 new jobs, with the majority of these becoming available later this year.

A spokesman for McDonald's said: "This is great news for us and for Milton Keynes, and we're delighted that our strong growth in the area puts us in the position to offer new employment opportunities."

McDonald's will not be adding any special MK Dons meals to its menu.

A spokesman for KFC said: "We are delighted to confirm that we will be opening a new drive-thru restaurant in Denbigh at the end of this year. The restaurant will create approximately 30 jobs and we're really looking forward to welcoming MK residents and Dons fans to try our 'finger lickin' good chicken."

Mind body and soul

We may all still be desperately clinging on to the hope that we will yet experience a proper summer, but as the weather becomes increasingly patchy, the prospect of autumn moving ever closer brings with it new challenges for our general health & well being.

Our beauty routines need to change to help our skin and hair to cope with the colder weather and the temptation of being able cover up with extra layers can play havoc with our careful summer diets!

In Milton Keynes we have lots of expert advice on hand to help us through the seasonal transition and ensure that we stay in peak condition to battle through the up and coming party season!

Teenagers pay school after theft of scooters

TWO teenagers have been ordered to repay a primary school after pleading guilty to stealing scooters from its grounds.

The 15-year-old boys, who cannot be named for legal reasons, were among a group of youths who broke into sheds at Wyvern First School on Aylesbury Street, Wolverton on July 29.

The youth court, held at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Thursday, heard that the sheds were damaged beyond repair.

Seven scooters were stolen valued at a total of £700.

The prosecution said five boys were seen by a cleaner climbing into the school grounds and taking the scooters over a fence.

They were then caught using the scooters in a lane close to the school by a police officer and arrested.

Three were given final warnings and two were charged aas they have previous convictions.

Two boys were ordered to pay £40 towards replacing the sheds and £60 court costs each.

One of the boys was sentenced to complete 12 hours at an attendance centre.

The other had two months added to a referral order for a previous offence.

The start of last year's Bananaman Chase

Bananadrama as cop threatens riot gear run

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

TIME is running out to sign up to this year's Bananaman Chase.

Adult entries for the 10 km fun run close tomorrow (Thursday) .

The event, in support of Leukaemia Research, returns to Milton Keynes on Sunday, September 13.

Participants aim to overtake as many 'top bananas' as they can as they run around Willen Lake.

Last year more than 600 people took part.

Ten people with personal experiences of blood cancers have been chosen to dress up as the 'bananas' and act as pacesetters.

Hazel Staten, from Bradwell, will be Banana Number 10 for the third year running.

Diagnosed with leukaemia in Christmas 2003 and having undergone chemotherapy, she received a bone marrow transplant in 2005 with her brother as the donor.

Since then she has been in remission.

Hazel, 54, said: "Events like the Bananaman Chase help to fund vital research which saved my life and the lives of many others.

"It's pretty hot and uncomfortable running in a banana suit but you get used to it.

"The event was fantastic in 2007 and 2008; there's a brilliant family atmosphere and it's great fun."

PC Matthew Waters, a roads policing officer, is also taking part.

He said: "If I can raise £1,000 then I will run the distance in my full police uniform, including boots.

"If I can raise £2,500 then I will run the distance in my full riot gear."

After the 10km event, there will be a 2km Junior Bananaman Chase for entrants under 12-years-old.

There will also be a band and other entertainment.

Entry to the Bananaman Chase, open for anyone over 16, costs £15.

Children can sign up on the day to the junior race, which costs £3.

■ For details, or to enter, visit www.bananaman10k.com, e-mail banana@lrf.org.uk or phone 020 7269 9012.

Telemark skier Richard Parrott

Top skier at SNO!zone

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY skier who competes for his country is to take part in the UK's first ski-a-thon at the SNO!zone.

Richard Parrott, a member of the Great Britain Telemark Ski team who lives in Leys Road, Loughton, will take part in the 12-hour team endurance challenge, supported by MK News, to raise money for the Spinal Injuries Association (SIA) on September 12.

Seven of his team mates will also travel from all over the country to join him on the slopes.

Mr Parrott, 43, a freelance telemark ski instructor at the SNO!zone, qualified for the GB team earlier this year.

He said: "Being chosen for the GB team was a really big high but at exactly the same moment you get hit by this daunting fact that actually qualifying is one thing, now we have got to pull it out as you will be racing against the best in the world."

He hopes taking part in the ski-a-thon will raise the profile of telemark skiing, which provides a greater range of movement than the more common alpine skiing as a telemarker is attached to the skis only by their toes.

Mr Parrott said: "The ski-a-thon is going to be quite tough mentally as we've done nothing quite as long as this, but they will be laying on some interesting stuff to keep everyone entertained on and off the slope."

Mr Parrott, a qualified surveyor who runs Loughton based commercial property investor and developer Secklow Properties, is also a member of the Great Britain Dragon Boat Racing team.

He will be joined on the slopes by other top skiers including Graham Bell, former Olympic skier and presenter on BBC's Ski Sunday, and British downhiller Ed Drake.

For spectators there will be Nintendo Wii competitions, fashion shows, a shop window treasure hunt, taster sessions from the Love Your Body group and live musical performances.

Period problems group

MONTHLY periods are an ordinary part of most women's lives, but is it normal to pass out on the bathroom floor, have to change a sanitary pad every 15 minutes or be forced to wear maternity clothes to cope with a swollen stomach?

Karen Hobbs, 35, a patient at Milton Keynes Hospital, was 15-years-old when she first started experiencing extremely heavy periods and chronic pain, but she was only finally diagnosed with endometriosis a decade later.

She has now set up a support group at BMI Saxon Clinic in Chadwick Drive, Saxon Street, MK to help other women in a similar situation.

The first Milton Keynes Endometriosis Local Support Group meeting will take place on Monday, September 7. For more information call Karen on 07941 459823.

‘Flying carpets’ land in city flower beds...

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

SCULPTURES and artwork have found new homes in thecentre:mk.

After the shopping centre began development on Queen’s Court, the three ‘flying carpet’ statues have landed in flower beds in Silbury Arcade.

The artist Philomena Davidson approved the move and will be visiting the centre in early September to see her work in its new location.

This year the shopping centre has spent nearly £75,000 on the relocation, refurbishment and storage of its public art.

But bosses are still searching for a new home for the sundial and associated bollards because they are collectively too large for the redesigned Queens Court. It remains in storage.

Meanwhile the 4th century mosaic from the ancient Bancroft Roman Villa site has been relocated close to the Discover Milton Keynes shop.

The Circle Of Light, the Liliane Lijn sculpture, has also been fully renovated in collaboration and agreement with the artist and reinstalled.

It has been agreed that Vox Pop, the group of larger than life bronze figures by John Clinch (1988), will remain the central art work in the redeveloped Queens Court.

Robert Goodman, Centre Director, said: “This has been an exciting process, working with many of the original artists to make sure that the public art in the centre is displayed in its best light.”

Missing woman may be in Lakes

POLICE searching for a woman who has been missing for a more than a month say she may have been sighted in Cumbria.

Fifty-seven-year-old Denise Widdowson went missing from her home in Giffard Park on Thursday, July 16.

Despite an emotional appeal in the media by her husband, Peter, at the beginning of August she has still not been found.

Police, who have searched the area near the couple's home in Giffard Park, including Willen Lake, are still investigating.

DC Kellie Smith, leading the enquiry said: "Cumbria police received a report from a member of the public who saw someone matching Denise Widdowson's description in the Keswick area on August 5. Two officers from Thames Valley Police travelled to Keswick to make further enquiries.

"At this stage we cannot confirm if the person sighted was in fact Denise but enquiries in the area are continuing."

Denise Widdowson has been missing since July

Chilling within tent

Antarctic survey team tests new equipment at SNO!zone

British Antarctic Survey operations manager, Mike Dinn grabs some provisions to cook inside the new tent – air flow meters were used to check for carbon monoxide levels

THE British Antarctic Survey (BAS) team was happy to get a cool welcome when members pitched up in at the SNO!zone.

The team, which included health and safety officers, headed for the slopes to conduct a series of tests on a new design of pyramid tent to check if it is suitable for use in the Antarctic.

The BAS team used carbon monoxide and air flow meters along with heat imaging cameras to measure for effectiveness in breathability, ventilation and condensation in the chilly temperatures.

The new tent was pitched alongside the type that which has been in use for more than 80 years as readings were taken from the two that will be analyised to see if the newer, higher tenacity model is up to scratch.

A key reason for the new design is to increase ventilation which will in turn decrease dangerous levels of carbon monoxide within the tents, which can build up from cooking and heating.

With Antarctic suveyors spending up to six months at a time in the hostile enviroment and sometimes having to spend days at a time, during bad weather, inside these tests are essential for survival.

BAS operations manager, Mike Dinn said: "We chose to come to SNO!zone because we can pitch properly in the snow, which is really helpful".

Mike, who has spent over five of the last 20 years in Antarctica added: "The next step is to test the tents in the Antarctic, as things like UV light reactions are different".

Neil Kinnock, Ann Limb and Pete Winkelman are rooting for MK to be a host city for the 2018 World Cup

Lord Kinnock backs city's World Cup bid

LORD Neil Kinnock has followed in the footsteps of Stuart Pearce, Darren Gough and Daley Thompson by backing Milton Keynes' bid to be a host for the 2018 World Cup.

The former Labour Party leader believes Milton Keynes would be an ideal location for football's biggest and most prestigious competition.

He said: "Milton Keynes is a young and vibrant city where individuals, organisations and politicians of all parties work together to make things happen. I'm sure that it would be a very good host city, particularly because of its excellent communication links and central location in the heart of the country."

Bid consortium chair Dr Ann Limb met with Baron Kinnock of Bedwellty to discuss the city's aim of hosting World Cup matches, which would involve welcoming visitors from all round the world.

She said: "Our goal is to put Milton Keynes on the global map through taking part in this highly prestigious sporting event. We are delighted to be receiving so much support from individuals from all walks of life including such a senior statesman."

The bid will step up a gear tomorrow (Thursday) when inspectors from the Football Association return for a second inspection of the city.

A team of nine FA officials visited MK in July to view training, hotel and leisure facilities as well as MK Dons' stadiummk.

Tomorrow they will hear more about MK's 2018 host city bid proposals in more depth, and visiting more venues in the city.

MK BUSINESS

Companies could be sued if staff catch swine flu

EMPLOYERS could be sued for not protecting staff from swine flu.

That is according to Tollers, the Milton Keynes-based solicitors, who are warning businesses that they must protect their employees.

Solicitors on the Insight team at Tollers believe health and safety legislation could be used by employees who fear they have been exposed to the virus at work, and a win could cost a company several thousand pounds in damages.

Gary Tait, who leads the Tollers Insight team, which advises clients on HR issues, health and safety and employment law, said: "It's the job of every employer to provide a safe working environment. That's what health and safety laws require. It might sound ridiculous, but if an aggrieved employee thinks they have been exposed to swine flu at work and can prove their employer has not taken reasonable steps to protect them, they could have a case."

A recent a survey by absence management organisation, Firstcare, reported 177,000 staff had taken time off work with swine flu symptoms in one just week.

"Business owners and managers need to take action now to show they have taken these reasonable steps. It doesn't have to be difficult or expensive; it just means making sure the basics are covered", said Mr Tait.

"For example, ensuring washing facilities with soap and hot water are available, and that anyone with even mild symptoms is sent home.

"You could even allow staff who don't want to come into the business to do their job remotely."

Insight at Tollers is a new approach to providing employment law, health and safety advice and HR services to businesses, in one simple package.

'Help a Mate' roadshow hits Kiln Farm

SEVEN British Red Cross volunteers have teamed up with a vehicle manufacturer to teach young people life-saving first aid.

The roadshow, held in Kiln Farm last Wednesday (August 19), was part of Toyota (GB) PLC's 'Help a Mate' campaign in the South East, which aims to give 3,000 girls and boys aged 12-18 the skills and confidence to save lives in a road traffic collision.

The children were taught five simple steps to roadside first aid, including stop, stay safe and keep calm, keep the casualty breathing, stop bleeding and call 999.

Konnie Huq, British Red Cross ambassador and TV presenter, said: "The 'Save a Mate' campaign is a great way for kids and their parents to learn roadside first aid.

"Doing something really simple like tilting someone's head back to clear their airway could actually save their life if they are involved in a road accident.

"You don't have to be special to learn first aid - anyone can do it."

Bonus for baby unit

Caption: (l-r) Rob and Danielle Soper with baby Lilly and hospital fund-raising manager, Sarah Newby and Richard Hill, manager at Luton's Luminar's Liquid & Envy venue

A LEISURE company has donated £10,000 to allow a hospital to buy an incubator for premature babies.

Luminar Leisure, a late night entertainment provider based in Rooksley, Milton Keynes, gave the funds raised through its charity Echo Trust to the Luton and Dunstable Hospital's neo-natal intensive care unit.

The unit was nominated by Luminar's senior commercial analyst, Rob Soper.

Rob and his partner Danielle remain extremely grateful for the help, care and support given to them following the premature birth of their daughter Lilly last summer.

Rob said: "Lilly's premature birth meant she spent the critical first few weeks of her life in the neo-natal intensive care unit."

High cost of fuel is good news for MK stove firm

IT may still be warm outside, but a city company is seeing a surge in custom for wood burning stoves

Two Mile Ash-based MK Fireplaces are seeing the credit crunch spur people into finding more efficient ways of heating their homes.

Mark Lloyd, director of MK Fireplaces, which now has over 15 years' experience in selling and installing wood burners, said: "We are now installing one wood burner for every two other fireplaces and interest is rising

"When you consider the cost of wood, and the efficiencies of this method of heating, it makes sound practical sense.

"Its not just old style cottages that are having these installed, with the massive range that is available the more contemporary designs would fit into any modern home.

"We design installations from simple fires, fireplaces and stoves to complete new double skin insulated flue systems for new and old chimneys but most enquires are based around the solid stoves."

MK Fireplaces feature a range of classic and contemporary solid fuel stoves, and a range of classic and contemporary gas stoves.

They are also promoting chimney sweeping services now to ensure that when fires are re-commissioned for the winter they are clean and safe.

If your interested in finding out more on cost effective ways to keep warm this winter contact Mark on 01908 566944.

With Central Milton Keynes having many shops and businesses we sometimes forget what is, quite literally, on our doorsteps.

The towns and villages around Milton Keynes have so much to offer gyms, jewellers, restaurants, dry cleaners, heating installers and much more.

When we can drive from one side of the city to the other in under twenty minutes, there is little excuse for not taking a visit to some of these friendly local businesses to find something unique.

Mixed benefits of high speed trains

THE announcement of a high-speed rail link for Britain has received a mixed reaction from commuters in Milton Keynes.

Last week Network Rail unveiled its proposals for a 200mph line that will transport passengers from London to Scotland in just two hours.

John Baker, who has long been campaigning for more Virgin trains to stop in Milton Keynes, said: "The proposed new high speed line will give the residents of Birmingham a quicker and more reliable service to London than the residents of Milton Keynes. And while Birmingham can celebrate a huge economic boost, MK commuters are still banned from high speed trains to and from London.

> The high speed line will give the residents of Birmingham a quicker and more reliable service to London than the residents of Milton Keynes
> – campaigner John Baker

"MK doesn't need investment to benefit from improved rail services, just a less useless government."

However, Iain Stewart, Conservative prospective parliamentary candidate, believes the link could clear the way for more trains to serve Milton Keynes.

"I will be campaigning to ensure that Milton Keynes gains the maximum advantage from a new North-South high speed rail line.

"Even if the line is not routed through Milton Keynes, removing many of the express trains that do not currently stop at Milton Keynes should mean more fast services to and from Birmingham and London. It is also vital that passengers and businesses in Milton Keynes can have easy access to the high-speed train network and I will be arguing strongly for this to be incorporated in the next stage of the project."

Free events will explore city's heritage

MORE than 50 events exploring local heritage and history are to be held this month.

The free events, running from Thursday, September 10 to Sunday, September 13 will stretch across Milton Keynes.

Many of the heritage open days, which are organised by the council, will be suitable for children.

Attractions include; a guided cycle ride around the city's heritage trails, demonstrations from local beekeepers and a walk back in time along a four mile stretch of railway track from Wolverton to Newport Pagnell.

Milton Keynes Museum will officially launch the new heritage trails on Thursday, September 3 from 5pm.

Cllr Vanessa McPake said: "We are not just a city of concrete cows, we have a fantastic heritage and this is opportunity for residents to get out and see it all."

Magical Madeira

Madeira is a stunning, year-round destination and only just over three hours away by air. With its mountains, waterfalls, rock pools and its assortment of flowers and fruits, the island's scenery is totally breathtaking.

Madeira is well known for its fortified wine, the ancient Laurissilva Forest, a UNESCO Natural World Heritage site, and its levadas - irrigation channels that provide an excellent network of pathways. There's also plenty for sports fans. The island has two golf courses, while catamaran excursions, scuba diving, deep-sea fishing, paragliding and surfing are available. Neighbouring Porto Santo, just a short flight away, has its own golf course and miles of white sand.

Galloway's Brickhill fish dish 'exquisite'

GALLOWAYS
Market Place, Woburn
01525 290496
Reviewed by Laura Hannam

THIS exclusive, yet welcoming, restaurant is nestled in the heart of the beautiful village of Woburn.

The restaurant is in Aberdeen House, a restored Grade II listed building dating back to the 17th Century still with original fireplaces, floors and exposed brick work.

My guest and I were greeted warmly by David Hay, who has owned Galloways with his wife Chantelle for 14 years.

We were shown to a table in a cosy and tastefully decorated restaurant with an impressive array of golf memorabilia and signed celebrity photographs.

For starters I ordered seared Brickhill smoked salmon (£7.95) from the al-a-carte menu.

This is the most exquisite salmon dish I have ever tasted; it created an explosion of flavour and was perfectly balanced with tomato salsa.

My guest ordered grilled halloumi with sweet chilli sauce from the specials menu.

For the main course I tried the roasted Gressingham duck breast with diced roasted herb potatoes (£15.95).

The duck was pink and tender and was set off well by a sweet raspberry jus sauce.

My guest had the fillet steak in a peppercorn sauce with roasted new potatoes (£22.95), which he described as 'beautifully moist'.

For dessert we shared the pecan nut brownie with chocolate sauce and vanilla ice cream and a creme brulee (£4.95 each).

The dishes, served alongside a huge selection of fine wines, were consistently excellent and good value for their high quality.

The service was also impeccable.

This would be the ideal place to bring a loved one for a treat or to gather for a special occasion.

On Tuesday evenings they have a pasta and steak extravaganza and on Friday lunch times you can have a three course meal for £15.50 or two courses for £12.50.

WATERSPORT

Splashes, bashes and drama

EXPECT splashes, noise and drama at Willen Lake this weekend as the British Jet Skiing Championships come to town.

World, European and UK Jetski champions will converge at the lake for the final round of this year's British Championships.

Participants between the ages of 10 to 55 compete in numerous races around a buoyed circuit, with the top GP formulas reaching speeds of up to 80mph.

The format is simple; up to 20 riders will line up to race over a set period, anything from eight to 14 minutes, around a buoyed course, as the race progresses the conditions get difficult to negotiate and fatigue plays a big part only the strongest survive.

The incredible speeds constants reach wow the crowd, but it is the display of freestyle skills that will have to impress a panel of judges.

It starts this Saturday at noon to 5pm and continues on Sunday at 10am to 6pm. For more information visit www.jsra.co.uk.

SONG AWAY

Hockey

YOU know what it's like when you hear a song and you know, you just KNOW, that it sounds like something you've heard before but you just can't put your finger on what it is?

Of course you do, it happens to all of us.

I'll even give you an example if you like, because I'm feeling generous.

You know Beyonce? Well, if you ask me she sounds almost exactly like the lead singer out of Destiny's Child.

Really, it's uncanny.

There are other examples too, but the reason I bring this up is that Song Away reminded me of something and it wasn't until the song had nearly finished that I realised what it was.

You see, it wasn't just one song – oh no, that'd be too easy – it was a song mixed with a band.

If you know who the Cars were, then you'll probably remember My Best Friend's Girl. Big hit in 1978, yeah? You remember it now, don't you? What do you mean, you weren't born then?

That's hardly my fault. Get yourself onto the Internet and look it up, then listen to this.

The same feel-good guitar pop sound can be found liberally splashed all over both songs, but there's something else here.

This sounds like a band playing a cover of My Best Friend's Girl as it would've been reimagined by the Traveling Wilburys.

Not something you hear every day, it has to be said.

Now, I'm not criticising the Traveling Wilburys themselves, I mean let's be fair here, they were a supergroup of singers who'd been plying their trades since the 60s and the Wilburys was just their chance to let off some steam and have fun.

But when you mix their rather relaxed and carefree sound with someone else's the end result is a bit, well, let me put it this way; Song Away is one of those songs that doesn't really go anywhere.

And whereas some songs burrow their way into your skull like a carnivorous badger, this one asks politely if you'd mind awfully remembering that you heard it and if you don't want to then that's perfectly OK and sorry for taking up so much of your time.

It's a harmless enough song, but it's a bit of a non-event.

COMPETITION

Win tickets to travel anywhere on Virgin Trains' rail network

The last of the summer's festivals are still to come, meaning it's not quite time to hang up your flip flops just yet.

And while thousands of Brits will excitedly flock to the open-air gigs, it means that the roads are often left in gridlock; with the huge queues often putting a dampener on things even more so than the notoriously fickle British weather.

But you don't need to worry about being slowed down if you choose to travel by train, with Virgin Trains offering super-fast services across the UK up to three times an hour.

So whether you're spending the weekend at the Edinburgh Festival, sampling the delights at The Mayors Thames Festival, or checking out the Big Wheel Sundays in London, take some of the stress out of the weekend by taking the train.

It is, after all, the travel provider of choice for festival-goers making it an easy, convenient and hassle-free way to get from A to B.

If you fancy taking a trip, why not enter this competition to win a pair of return first-class Virgin Train tickets to any destination on the Virgin Trains network?

Jermaine Easter squeezes through the Exeter defence to score his second

Easter's double – on the double

EXETER CITY 1

A QUICKFIRE brace from Jermaine Easter extended MK Dons' unbeaten run in League One to five matches and sent them third in the table.

Exeter City were two nil down with six minutes on the clock, and on a hiding to nothing until Paul Tisdale's men finally showed why they have recorded back-to-back promotions.

The Grecians put in a dogged performance in the second-half to make the result a little too close for comfort.

When Easter turned in Jason Puncheon's cross in the 32nd second, and then added to the scoreline five minutes later there was plenty of reason for the travelling fans to expect a route.

Even striker Easter had his eyes on a hat-trick, he said: "It was on my mind. I remember one time I've gone in and cut it back for JJ, he's lifted it over the centre-half and I was thinking 'go down, go down' because I'm on penalties but it wasn't meant to be."

The Dons barely let their hosts touch the ball in the early as the four-prong attack of Easter, Puncheon, Jemal Johnson and Luke Chadwick moved with freedom.

With every move forward there was a chance of Exeter keeper Paul Jones scooping the ball out of the net.

It meant Tisdale had to change his plans and it was route one football after the break.

Long balls down to striker Barry Corr ruffled a few feathers, and seven minutes after the re-start he slotted past Willy Gueret.

Dons, with Dean Lewington returning from a head injury, had to strengthen their back line bringing on Mathias Doumbe to slot in alongside David McCracken and Danny Woodards.

And it was thanks to their solid defending late on that the Dons left St James' Park with three points.

Easter said: "I thought the lads at the back were superb, Cracks especially I thought he was phenomenal today, he has been for the last few weeks.

"Fair play to him, hopefully we can continue to defend well and score goals hopefully we'll do some decent things this season."

After an unbeaten month in League One Paul Ince's side are positioned at the right end of the table.

But Ince is still urging for his side to finish games off, he said: "I was pleased for Jermaine, you can see he was desperate to get off the mark in general play so two nil up you think lets go on and press them, and get a third and fourth.

"It looked like we were going to do that, at will.

"The second half comes it ruined it for me but it's not about playing football, it was about doing the dirty things and we all tried to do the dirty things as a team."

COMING UP

HUDDERSFIELD
League One
Saturday, September 5
KO 3pm

BIG-SPENDING Huddersfield Town have a lot of expectation resting on their shoulders this year.

Manager Lee Clarke splashed the cash to bring in the likes of Theo Robinson, Jordan Rhodes and Robbie Simpson.

So far, it appears to have worked with the Terriers just five points off the pace set by league leaders Charlton and Leeds.

Huddersfield have won all three of their home games, but on their travels they drew at Southend and lost 1-0 at Bristol Rovers.

In fifth place, and a point behind the Dons, the Terriers will be hoping they can put an end to the Dons' unbeaten start.

Chadwick chosen

LUKE Chadwick has been named in the League One Team of the Week.

There is no room for two-goal hero Jermaine Easter, but Chadwick has earned a spot in the divisional eleven after turning in an impressive display at St James' Park.

Team of the Week in full: Claydon Ince (Walsall), Barry Fuller (Gillingham), Michael Nelson (Norwich), Scott Cuthbert (Swindon), Jose Vitor Semedor (Charlton), Luke Chadwick (MK Dons), Paul Thirwell (Carlisle), Nick Bailey (Charlton), Bradley Johnson (Leeds), Scott McGleish (Leyton Orient), Jermaine Beckford (Leeds).

U18s beaten

MK Dons under-18s' first home game of the Premier Academy League season ended in a 2-0 reverse defeat to Huddersfield Town.

Dons had plenty of chances with both Martel Powell and Justin Dowling hitting the woodwork in the first half.

But they were unable to convert their chances, much to the disappointment of director of youth, Mike Dove.

He said: "I'm frustrated because we're better than we showed today.

"Huddersfield were well set up and they had some big, strong players in their side, but if we'd played to our potential things might have been different.

"Their manager felt we were the better side, he told me as such after the game, but we didn't play to the tempo and standards that we expect."

The Terriers took the lead on 19 minutes when Aiden Chippendate slotted past Dons goalie Daniel Glass.

The visitors ahead a second after the break when Stephen Powell latched on to a parried effort.

Ladies on a roll

MK Dons Ladies made it three wins from three in the South East Combination league.

They twice came from behind to beat Ipswich Town.

The Ladies were without Mikaela Welford– injured on duty for Wales – for their first game at Willen Road.

The visitors went ahead in the fourth minute but the Dons levelled the scores through Aileen Whelan.

Before the break Ipswich re-gained their leadbut within 45 seconds of the re-start winger Charly Wright had fired the Dons level.

And fifteen minutes from time Wright bagged her second with a free-kick finding the top corner.

Second placed Dons host third-placed Northampton Town tonight at Willen Road. Kick-off is at 7.45pm.

Winslow draw sees Newport relegated

CRICKET

Morrants Four Counties Division One

NEWPORT Pagnell have been relegated to division two.

The side have won just one game this season, drawn eight and lost nine.

Their latest draw came at home to Winslow Town.

Newport went in to bat first and with 198-7 on the board decided to declare.

But they were unable to claim ten wickets, and Winslow (145-9) batted through the remaining overs to cling on for a share of the points.

Champions Eaton Bray recorded a heavy 101 run victory at New Bradwell.

Wes Hoskins (51) was once again the top scorer with Paul Harris (43) providing the support as Eaton posted 164.

A stunning spell of bowling from Gary Ellerton earned Eaton the win, he claimed 8-30 as New Bradwell were dismissed for 63.

Old Bradwell lost to Cublington by six wickets.

Ross Poulter (56), Ant Perry (36) and Manoj Goss (33) helped Old Bradwell set a target of 180.

Cublington had Pip Webb's unbeaten 87, assisted by Neil Tonnells' 71no, to thank for the victory as they raced to 181-4.

North Crawley (223-4) beat Milton Keynes City (221-8) by six wickets.

City posted 221 on the board after good innings from Raj Lall (66) and Mahdi Ali (48).

But the total was not enough with Matt Goss (79) and Richard Bryce (59no) leading North Crawley to the win.

Aspley Guise (154-6) beat Elstow (153-9) by four wickets.

Cherwell League Division One

Bletchley Town recorded an impressive 91-run victory against relegation haunted Banbury at Manor Fields.

It was a tough start for Blecthley, who lost the toss and were put in to bat, as they were reeling at 48-5.

Mark Grass (44) and Alex Kilbey (35) set about rebuilding the innings, but they were dismissed by Stephen Hart to leave Bletchley precariously placed at 126-7 after 37 overs.

The home side were thankful to a partnership of 74 in just 12 overs from wicket keeper Sai Yogeswaran (41) and Dave Warwick (38).

Jude Ramanadanpulle compounded Banbury's misery as he smashed 25 from just 10 balls at the end to take Bletchley to 231 all out in the final over of their innings.

Ghufran Mohammed struck twice early on to leave the visitors teetering on 11-2 before John Wright (43) and Jon Best (19) shared a stand of 68.

Shortly afterwards, Clark (3-27) dismissed his counterpart Dave Clark (14) and trapped Mick Thomas LBW.

Ramanadanpulle followed up his brisk runs by taking 2-21, and Mohammed (3-31) came back to dismiss Hart for 1 before Grass himself came onto bowl and picked up the final wicket to bowl the visitors out for 140.

Northants Premier League

Stony Stratford suffered a four wicket defeat to Rushden Town.

Stony were put in to bat and got off to the worst possible start when Kieran Price was caught LBW for a duck.

Mihir Choski (52) and Dion Ebrahim (59) and some valuable runs to the score sheet and Stony ended their innings on 223-9.

In reply a good knock from Graeme White (49) appeared to be wasted as Rushden struggled at 97-5.

But a brilliant sixth wicket stand between Aqab Ahmed (58) and Mudasser Hussain (38) of 93, added with Gareth Griffiths' unbeaten 28 saw them through to victory.

Red Bull's Vettel on the button

MOTOR RACING

SEBASTIAN Vettel returned to the podium as championship leader Jenson Button crashed out in Spa.

Red Bull's Vettel was beginning to fall away from Jenson Button in the Drivers' Championship standing following two successive retirements.

However, Button has suffered similar troubles of late, and matters only got worse when his race was ended on the first lap.

Traditionally one of the most incident packed races, the Belgian Grand Prix did not disappoint as a collision involving Button, current World Champion Lewis Hamilton, Romain Grosjean and Jaime Alguersuari caused chaos early on.

It gave an immediate advantage to the remaining title chasers on the track – especially German Vettel, who had qualified in eighth place, as he moved from fourth to third in the championship table, at the expense of team mate Mark Webber.

Yet Vettel reckons he should have put more points on the board, after admitting he was over-cautious.

He said: "If you look at the Championship board, today was a good result. Obviously it was not easy to start from the middle of the pack, but the actual start was good.

Red Bull's Sebastian Vettel on the podium in Spa after closing the gap on Jensen Button to claim third place in the Drivers' Champion-ship

"I was maybe too conservative in the middle of the first lap when I saw Nick (Heidfeld) go off the track very often cars tend to come back on to the circuit spinning; I lost a position to Nico (Rosberg) and had to catch him back up after the restart.

"It was a pleasure to drive the car and we were quicker than the guys in front. We took points out of the Brawn team today, so that's good for the team and it's good to score more points than Jenson and Rubens (Barichello) for the Drivers' Championship."

Fellow title rival, and team mate, Webber could have been in the mix for points until he was forced to serve a drive-through penalty.

Webber moved from ninth to seventh when he went in for his first pit-stop on lap 14, but he was released too soon and pulled out in front of Nick Heidfeld.

Once he had served the penalty Aussie Webber fell back into ninth position and failed to make up any more ground.

He said: "I tried to get back into the points and when we had free air, which was not often, we had good pace, but it wasn't enough.

"It's very frustrating not to take any points away, I thought I deserved them from that drive, but the drive-through wrecked that. No one's interested in excuses though; that's how it is, so let's get on and look ahead to the next race."

Kimi Raikkonen won the race, with Force India's Giancarlo Fisichella finishing second.

Japan matches to launch badminton season

BADMINTON

TEAM England are to launch the new badminton season with two international matches against Japan in mid-October.

Milton Keynes-based Nathan Robertson will be one of the stars on show in both matches.

Team England last played Japan in the Sudrirman Cup in May, when they scored a resounding 4-1 win during a campaign which marked double stars Robertson's 100th appearance and Robert Blair's 50th England cap.

The Japan matches will offer the first opportunity for badminton fans to see Robertson in action at home since reaching his milestone cap.

He is likely to feature in the men's doubles in at least one match with partner Anthony Clark, with whom he had success at the Singapore Open in June when they became England's first Super Series winners.

Clark and Donna Kellogg, the European mixed doubles champions who will be defending their title in Manchester in April, will be the number one pairing for the mixed doubles.

The squad is also likely to feature Rajiv Ouseph, who has joined Andrew Smith in the world's top 30 in the men's singles, and promising doubles players Chris Adcock, Gabby White (Yorks) and Jenny Wallwork.

The opening match will be at the University of Bath on Friday, October 16 with the second at the Loughborough University on Saturday, October 17.

Team England will be led by Performance Director Ian Moss, taking charge for the first time in a home fixture, and Olympic manager Andy Wood.

Moss said: "I am looking forward to leading Team England for the first time at home and I am pleased that we are going to two venues that are so important with the training of our emerging squad members."

The matches will be played under the five-match Sudirman Cup format of men's and women's singles and doubles and one mixed.

Local rugby

BLETCHLEY beat local rivals Leighton Buzzard by a point in a pre-season friendly at Manor Fields.

The home side went in front after 15 minutes when they were awarded a penalty in Leighton's half and George Harman duly accepted the three points.

Leighton piled on pressure and got their rewards when they scored a try out wide, but failed to add the conversion.

Bletchley went back in front thanks to Adam Demspey's try which from a driving maul.

The visitors managed to sandwich in another try to re-take the lead, but a late penalty ensured it was Bletchley who had the bragging rights.

■ MK's third team played their first pre-season friendly away to Winslow. The side, comprised of a number of players from the first, second and third team, recorded a convincing 10-35 victory.

MK ran in three tries from Dan Pearson, Mike Dean and Andy Poole, all converted by Mike Dean, to Winslow's penalty kick. Man of the match Dean completed his hat-trick in the second half, and Winslow added a converted try.

Goal grabber Jermaine Easter taunts the Daggers defence

A HEADER from wounded skipper Dean Lewington, and a brace from Jermaine Easter saw MK Dons progress to the second round of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

Dagenham & Redbridge put up a resilient fight, with Josh Scott scoring late in injury time, but the League Two leaders bowed down to the Dons' pressure.

Lewington, who had 12 stitches in a head injury three weeks ago, broke the deadlock on the 55th minute, and the floodgates opened with Easter netting his second double in a matter of days.

There may not have been any deadline day signings for the Dons but the return of Peter Leven and Danny Swailes, who was involved in competitive football for the first time in over a year last night, would have been just as pleasing for Dons supporters.

The visitors caused a few nervy moments early on when Willy Gueret managed to get his body in the way of Paul Benson's right-footed shot.

Single handedly Jemal Johnson tried to inject some magic into the game, and almost did it when he caught Abu Ogogo in a spin, cut inside to the right and drilled from distance into the side netting.

The Dons shook off their sluggish start to take a grip on proceedings, with the right-hand side of the Daggers' line-up looking a little shaky.

Easter had Ogogo hypnotised with his step overs, allowing him to drift into the box before stinging the palms of Roberts.

The game desperately needed a goal to bring it to life and Ibehre went close minutes after the restart.

He collected Richie Partridge's header over Scott Griffiths and embarked on a run down the right.

Partridge continued on his run into the box, urging the striker to cross in to him, but Ibehre fancied his chances from outside the area and it rose just over the bar.

Daggers then took the ball to the other end of the pitch, and in an attempt to clear Thomas' cross Sol Davis almost poked the ball into his own net.

Dons finally found the break through when Lewington nodded the ball past Roberts.

The Dons skipper rose highest to meet Partridge's cross much to the delight of the Cowshed behind the Daggers' goal. Three minutes later Roberts was fishing the ball out of his net again, this time he managed to get a hand to a header from Puncheon's corner, but Easter was on hand to lash in the rebound.

Ibehre had a point blank shot turned away by Roberts, but Easter soon had him beaten for the Dons' third.

The inform striker had the ball at his feet 25-yards out yet somehow managed to squeeze his drilled between Roberts and his near post.

A fourth could have come when Ibehre only needed to tap-in Johnson's cross, only for the Daggers' keeper to make a brave decision to dive at his feet.

Daggers did have chances themselves to add to the score line, with Antwi hitting the upright, Benson forced a stop on the line from Gueret, but the visitors did get a consolation when Josh Scott headed home deep in injury time.

Dons will find out who they face in the next round when the draw takes place on Saturday.

Your Questions Answered

Q: What can I do to keep my bin clean?

A: We recommend that all residents use newspaper, kitchen paper or a paper liner to wrap food in before placing it in the larger green bin for collection. This prevents food from sticking to the bin, reduces odours and helps to absorb moisture from the food. The addition of garden waste also helps to absorb moisture, a key reason we chose 'food and garden' collections.

Q: Why do I have a wheelie bin and my neighbour has a smaller green bin with a handle?

A: There are different reasons for this. For some, moving the larger bin may be an issue; they may not have a garden or already home compost and therefore do not need such a big bin. In some areas, homes have limited space to keep larger bins or access may be a problem. We are happy to do all we can to help and you can contact us via our website www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/foodwastecontact or phone our helpline on 01908 25 26 66.

Q: Can I still use black sacks?

A: Yes you can. We are doing all that we can to reduce the amount of waste that has to be sent to landfill, but we also understand there are things that cannot currently be recycled. Black bags continue to be collected weekly with your recycling and there are no plans for this to change.

Q: Can I use corn starch bags?

A: No, please do not use these in your food bins. They do not break down quickly enough at the composting facility. Biodegradable bags break into smaller pieces over a period of anything from one month to ten years, but do not fully break down. Newspaper and paper liners compost in a short time which is why we recommend that you use them instead.

Q: Why has only half of my rubbish been collected at the normal time?

A: The new food and garden waste collections require a seperate lorry to those collecting the pink and black sacks. To ensure that the roads are not blocked, collection crews start from opposite ends of a route and as a result, collections may take place at different times on the same street. If you believe that your collection has been missed, please wait until 4pm on your collection day before calling. This will allow the crews sufficient time to finish their rounds and to report if they are collecting later in the day.
